

The Solutions Behavioral Healthcare Board of Trustees are pleased to announce the hiring of a new CEO, Megan Elizabeth Bush, LISW-S, EMBA. Ms. Bush will begin her leadership of the organization on March 15th and will join a leadership team of clinical director, Christine Rawlings, M.ED., LPCC-S, LICDC-CD, and Chief Financial Officer, Craig Hargenrader.

"Our Board members were extremely impressed with Megan's experience working with children, adolescents, and families in the most intensive levels of care for over ten years, as well as her most recent work with adults in an acute hospital setting," shared Dr. Kristine Quallich, Solutions Board President. In addition, Megan's financial experience, she holds an Executive MBA from Cleveland State University, bringing in hundreds of thousands of dollars in additional funding via strategic partners was very appealing to the Board.

Megan is also very excited about the opportunity to serve the community and shared, "I'm grateful for the opportunity to lead this quality clinical team into the next phase of growth at Solutions. Our leadership team is confident that this organization will quickly rise to meet the unique and ever-changing needs of the residents of Medina County, by injecting innovation and energy into the quality and experience that already characterizes the treatment at Solutions Behavioral Health."

Solutions leadership and staff will be undergoing a strategic planning process in the coming weeks and looks forward to any input the community has to allow the agency to provide the best possible service to its residents. If you have input, please visit the Solutions website at www.solutionsbh.org and click Strategic Planning to join the conversation.
